Tomahawk Bows®

BEST OF THE BEST™

Tomahawk Bows® began with the creativity and ingenuity of Dale Karch, owner of 3Rivers Archery, and his passion to create a bow that was elegantly simple, yet would hold up to the rigorous demands of bowhunting. Dale used his expertise as a tool and die maker to create a traditional bow that does precisely that.

All Tomahawk Bows® feature a unique “trapped” deflex/reflex limb profile, paired with beautiful woods and flawless workmanship, all culminating into an impressive combination of speed, smoothness, and stability.

Truly making our Tomahawk Bows® the “Best of the Best.™”

Every Tomahawk® Kiska SS includes a hard travel case, stringer, and limited lifetime warranty.

DAS™ HT-21 Riser

In a collaboration with The Push Archery and TradLab we present a hunting riser that is also a serious competitor on the shooting line. The HT-21 pulls double duty as the perfect "hunting target" riser. Together we designed, tested, and tweaked every inch of the 21" Dalaa® to build the ultimate riser for the modern bowhunter who wants to extend their shooting into the competitive realm. One riser that handles the rigors of hunting, and the precision demands of a barebow archer. No need to have a second "target rig" as the HT-21 is everything in one.

Offering everything that makes the 21" Dalaa® great and more. Adding a 2nd recessed plunger hole along with modifying and optimizing the plunger holes positioning for increased shootability, tunability, and accuracy. The radiused shelf has been extended for more off-the-shelf tuning. A stabilizer bushing has been added on the belly in-line with the front bushing, and a thicker scribed center line. The limb pad attachment has been reinforced and limb butt clearance has been increased. It has even gained some deflex to the profile. The largest modification is the innovative barebow weight system for customizing your riser for precision balancing.

Included with every riser are two 4.8 oz brass side plates, wrenches, adjustable strike button, and a manual. Riser with weights, no grip, weighs approx 3 lbs 5 oz. Options: right or left hand, matte black anodized finish or DuraCoat® sniper green finish, and ILF or DAS™ limb connection.

The smooth body of the grip allows the hand to slip effortlessly into position. The 2.0 models are designed with ridged corners to provide the most consistent hand placement. The 3.0 Joonsuh model re-contours the 2.0 grip to lessen the rub point on the thumb joint, keeping the thumb a little lower for added comfort. 3Rivers Bow Set-Up

Let us set-up your new bow so it is ready to shoot. A 3Rivers Tech will set the nocking point, install an arrow rest (pages 48-49), check the brace height (per manufacturer recommendations), and install string silencers (pages 46). The arrow rest and string silencers are sold separately. Options: split finger or 3-under shooting style. #BOWSETUPX $17.99

Importance of Bow Length

Shooting too short of a bow will shorten your distance to stack (feel like hitting a wall when drawing past a certain length), have more finger pinch (hurts your accuracy and fingers), and feels as if you are drawing more bow weight as the weight is distributed over a shorter length. Having a longer bow will draw smoother, not stack, and normally have greater accuracy as you get a cleaner release due to lower string angle. Your draw length determines what will be a "too short" of a bow for you. All adult bows are rated at 28", but not everyone draws to that point. Find your draw length by using a draw check arrow (page 86) or watching our YouTube video (Determining Draw Length) for help. If you shoot a compound bow, it may not be the same length on your traditional bow. Use our chart ONLY as a recommendation.

Bow Length	Recommended Draw Length
48" - 52"	27" & less
53" - 56"	24" - 28"
57" - 60"	26" - 29"
61" - 63"	28" - 30"
64" - 68"	28" - 33"

BOW STRINGS

FLEMISH TWIST STRINGS

Made from several bundles of strands twisted upon themselves. Designed to adjust the length by twisting the string tighter as the string stretches. They are also rounder and easier to install silencers on than other types of strings.

- It's possible for the area by the string loops to appear to be fraying. This is common and is not damaging to the string. To remove the fraying rub your hand on the strands to lay them down. The wax in the string will hold the strands down. It is not recommended to trim fraying strands.

Please note: It is recommended that you use the TopHat® Thread Cutting Tool, TopHat® Shaft Shaper, and TopHat® Assembly Tool to use with these points. The TopHat® Shaft Shaper is for compressing down an oversized shaft so the finish will not be marred when installing points, and to allow the points to go on easier. The TopHat® Thread Cutting Tool is for starting a thread onto the shaft to make it easier to install screw-on points. The TopHat® Assembly Tool is for gripping the point, the Thread Cutting Tool, or the Shaft Shaper without marring them for easy tightening and removal of TopHat® points.

How To Find The Right Spine For You

Our Spine Selection Charts are a great starting point, BUT they are only a reference point, not guaranteed to be an EXACT match for your bow. Test kits are highly recommended.

STEP 1: Find your Arrow Length and Draw Length.

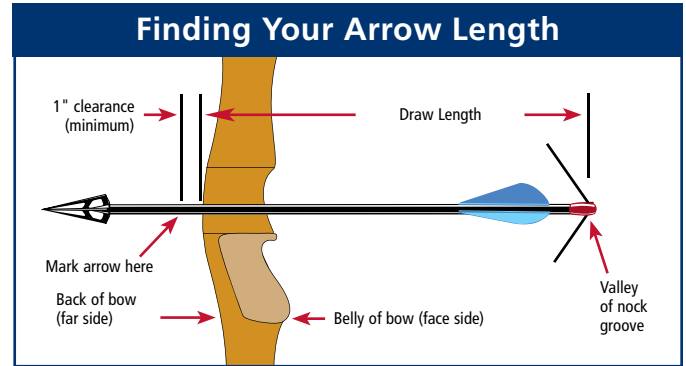

The Correct Arrow Length is best determined by drawing back an extra-long arrow (draw check arrow below) to full draw and having someone mark the arrow right in front of the handle. Measure the arrow from the mark to the valley (deepest part) of the nock groove. This is your DRAW Length. For ARROW length we recommend adding 1 or 2 inches to this measurement so your broadhead will not bump the bow shelf. For target archery this is not as important, but be sure to leave enough arrow so it does not come off the inside of the bow shelf.

STEP 2: Determining Actual Peak Bow Weight

This is measured at your draw length, not by what the bow has written on it. The reason is a bow will be roughly 2-3# different for every inch +/- the rated draw length. Even if you draw at your bow's rated draw (normally 28") the industry standard allows a bow manufacturer to be $\pm 2\#$ from rated bow weight and still mark/sell at the rated weight. So your marked 45# @ 28" bow could actually be 47# @ 28". Using an accurate scale, see page 68, draw the string until you hit your draw length and hold. Observe the weight on the scale. Repeat as you see fit.

STEP 3: Arrow Selection Chart

Once you have your Arrow Length and Actual Bow Peak Weight, you are ready to select your correct arrow spine. Find your bow type and bow weight along with the point weight you plan to use. Most common is 125 grains. Now move across the chart until you find your arrow length. Note: The 1/2" marks over lap on the chart, if you are on two different spines we highly recommend getting a test kit first. Remember, these are only recommendations, the final decision is up to you.

What Wing Feather to Shoot?

It is an old belief that Right hand (RH) shooters must shoot Left wing (LW) so the arrow spins away from the riser. This is not the case. An arrow only starts spinning once it is several feet in front of the bow, so feel free to shoot Left or Right wing

What Feather Profile?

This is also a personal choice. The bigger and longer the feather is, the more surface area for wind to drag on. This not only stabilizes your arrow in flight, but slows it down. The most popular is 5" shield. The difference is small, but some believe parabolic to be quieter as it has slightly less surface area compared to shield cut.

SPINE SELECTION CHARTS

Using these charts or calling our tech line can help you pick a spine, however, the final choice is yours. No refunds on arrows that have been cut or "don't fly right." Follow the directions on left page on how to use below spine charts.
