Welcome to 3Rivers Archery!

Within these pages you will find the world's largest selection of traditional archery gear. Our catalog is bigger than it has ever been and we still have more items online. We are always adding new items to help fellow archers pursue their target, in any form that takes. From in the backyard shooting with the family, to on the shooting line at an archery competition, to in the woods chasing big game.

So be sure to check our web site, as we are always adding new items and more helpful information to it all the time.

Global supply chain shortages have not spared archery goods, so thank you for your patience as we continue to work with our suppliers to keep you stocked up for all of your archery adventures. As this catalog is used for all of 2022, items may be out, or substituted for similar items. Though it may also mean prices can change from what is published here. Thank you for your understanding as we all adapt to the ever changing market.

Speaking of change, we have been doing a lot of it.

Our work family has grown this past year, and we are so blessed to have such a group of dedicated and supportive people together. This year we hope to make some big changes in how we do things and how we interact with fellow archers. So keep an eye out this year to see how we continue to grow.

We hope to make 2022 a great year. Starting and ending with taking care of you, our faithful customer and passionate traditional archer. Our amazing staff will be here to help any way we can. From answering your phone calls, emails, and online chats, to fast, same day shipping of your orders. We are your longbow and recurve experts, and are proud to be your one-stop shop for everything you need.

DAS™ HT-21 Riser

In a collaboration with The Push Archery and TradLab we present a hunting riser that is also a serious competitor on the shooting line. The HT-21 pulls double duty as the perfect "hunting target" riser.

Together we designed, tested, and tweaked every inch of the 21" Dala® to build the ultimate riser for the modern bowhunter who wants to extend their shooting into the competitive realm. One riser that handles the rigors of hunting, and the precision demands of a barebow archer. No need to have a second "target rig" as the HT-21 is everything in one.

Offering everything that makes the 21" Dala® great and more. Adding a 2nd recessed plunger hole along with modifying and optimizing the plunger holes positioning for increased shootability, tunability, and accuracy. The radiused shelf has been extended for more off-the-shelf tuning. A stabilizer bushing has been added on the belly in-line with the front bushing, and a thicker scribed center line. The limb pad attachment has been reinforced and limb butt clearance has been increased. It has even gained some deflex to the profile. The largest modification is the innovative barebow weight system for customizing your riser for precision balancing.

Riser (with a grip) weighs approx 2 lbs 13 oz. Included with every riser are two 4.8 oz brass side plates, wrenches, adjustable strike button, and a manual. Choose right or left handed, matte black anodized finish or DuraCoat® sniper green finish, and ILF or DAS™ limb connection.

3Rivers Bow Set-Up

Let us set-up your new bow so it is ready to shoot. A 3Rivers Tech will set the nocking point, install an arrow rest (pages 48-49), check the brace height (per manufacturer recommendations), and install string silencers (pages 46). The arrow rest and string silencers are sold separately. Choose split finger or 3-under shooting style. #BOWSETUP $15.99

Importance of Bow Length

Shooting too short of a bow will shorten your distance to stack (feel like hitting a wall when drawing past a certain length), have more finger pinch (hurts your accuracy and fingers), and feels as if you are drawing more bow weight as the weight is distributed over a shorter length. Having a longer bow will draw smoother, not stack, and normally have greater accuracy as you get a cleaner release due to lower string angle. Your draw length determines what will be a "too short" of a bow for you. All adult bows are rated at 28", but not everyone draws to that point. Find your draw length by using a draw check arrow (page 86) or watching our YouTube video (Determining Draw Length) for help. If you shoot a compound bow, it may not be the same length on your traditional bow. Use our chart ONLY as a recommendation.

Bow Length	Recommended Draw Length
48" - 52"	27" & less
53" - 56"	24" - 28"
57" - 60"	26" - 29"
61" - 63"	28" - 30"
64" - 68"	28" - 33"

How To Find The Right Spine For You

Our Spine Selection Charts are a great starting point, BUT they are only a reference point, not guaranteed to be an EXACT match for your bow.

Test kits are highly recommended.

STEP 1: Find your Arrow Length and Draw Length.

The Correct Arrow Length is best determined by drawing back an extra-long arrow (draw check arrow below) to full draw and having someone mark the arrow right in front of the handle. Measure the arrow from the mark to the valley (deepest part) of the nock groove. This is your DRAW Length. For ARROW length we recommend adding 1 or 2 inches to this measurement so your broadhead will not bump the bow shelf. For target archery this is not as important, but be sure to leave enough arrow so it does not come off the inside of the bow shelf.

STEP 2: Determining Actual Peak Bow Weight

This is measured at your draw length, not by what the bow has written on it. The reason is a bow will be roughly 2-3# different for every inch +/- the rated draw length. Even if you draw at your bow's rated draw (normally 28") the industry standard allows a bow manufacturer to be $\pm 2\#$ from rated bow weight and still mark/sell at the rated weight. So your marked 45# @ 28" bow could actually be 47# @ 28". Using an accurate scale, see page 68, draw the string until you hit your draw length and hold. Observe the weight on the scale. Repeat as you see fit.

STEP 3: Arrow Selection Chart

Once you have your Arrow Length and Actual Bow Peak Weight, you are ready to select your correct arrow spine. Find your bow type and bow weight along with the point weight you plan to use. Most common is 125 grains. Now move across the chart until you find your arrow length. Note: The 1/2" marks over lap on the chart, if you are on two different spines we highly recommend getting a test kit first. Remember, these are only recommendations, the final decision is up to you.

Easton Draw Length Indicator Shaft

An easy, convenient way to check your draw length on your own bow. Clear markings show you the exact measurement in inches. Measures draw lengths up to 34". Not for shooting.

What Wing Feather to Shoot?

It is an old belief that Right handed (RH) shooters must shoot Left wing (LW) so the arrow spins away from the riser. This is not the case. An arrow only starts spinning once it is several feet in front of the bow, so feel free to shoot Left or Right wing

What Feather Profile?

This is also a personal choice. The bigger and longer the feather is, the more surface area for wind to drag on. This not only stabilizes your arrow in flight, but slows it down. The most popular is 5" shield. The difference is small, but some believe parabolic to be quieter as it has slightly less surface area compared to shield cut.

SPINE SELECTION CHARTS

Using these charts or calling our tech line can help you pick a spine, however, the final choice is yours. No refunds on arrows that have been cut or "don't fly right." Follow the directions on left page on how to use below spine charts.

Woodsman® broadheads

NEW Woodsman® ELITE Stainless Steel Series

We've given the Woodsman Elite an upgrade.

Our newest model features the same machined one-piece design as our standard Elites, but in 416 series stainless steel. You'll experience the same tough, bone-busting performance all Woodsman broadheads provide, with the added benefit of rust-resistant dependability and less maintenance. Stainless steel is more forgiving than carbon steel, making these broadheads easier to sharpen to a hunting sharp edge. All grain models have a 1 1/8" cutting diameter. The 125 grains is 1 3/4" long, the 150 grains 1 7/8" long, the 175 grains 2 3/8" long, and the 200 grain 2 5/16" long. The 125 grain model is vented, while the heavier models are non-vented.
